

“INDEPENDENT ADVISOR” SUDDENLY HAS A NICE RING TO IT. NOW WHAT?

Turn to Schwab. When it comes to helping advisors go independent, we've been through it all.

We support more independent Registered Investment Advisors than anyone else—with over $578 billion in client assets, Schwab Institutional has been supporting the independent advisor for over 20 years.

We support you through every step of the transition—with unmatched resources and over 1,800 dedicated professionals, we can help make your transition painless and worry-free. We'll provide everything from a customized business and client transition plan to helping you find office space and implementing technology that will help you run your practice.

We provide one of the leading platforms around—we offer custody, trading and a full range of products including managed accounts, along with back-office support.

Whether you're looking to start your own independent advisory firm, or join an independent firm, Schwab Institutional can help.
